GiGi's Playhouse invites you to join Raising Robust Readers' Facebook Group,

About Phonics for Folks with Down Syndrome:

Our group is designed for families, friends and affiliated professionals who have the same interest as you. We want to reach out to everyone, especially at this time when parents have become the primary teachers for their children. What better time to come together in community to learn that teaching reading can be as easy as teaching a preschool math page? Join and watch our first video to find out how that works! Hope to meet you soon!
