- Providing family support
- Celebrating the Down syndrome community

WWW.THEBRETTBOYERFOUNDATION.ORG

One of our favorite parts of our mission is celebrating the extraordinary, capable lives of our friends in the Down syndrome community.

Thank you to Gi Gi's Playhouse for all you do!

The Brett Boyer Foundation

was founded in 2017 by Ellen and Bo Boyer following the loss of their 7 month-old daughter, Sadie Brett Boyer, to complications from CHD. Brett was a gift to all who knew and loved her, and her legacy shines on as we continue our mission of changing outcomes for other families and celebrating her life.

Welcome Guests.

Thank you for joining us at the Country Music Hall of Fame as we celebrate GiGi's Playhouse Nashville and the Down syndrome community of Middle Tennessee!

For more than a decade we have been fulfilling a simple promise: that cost will never be a barrier to accessing the therapeutic and educational services our friends with Down syndrome need to thrive and grow into their full potential.

This mission is made possible because of generous individuals like you and we are deeply grateful for your kindness and support. Funds raised from tonight's gala are critical to ensuring GiGi's is able to provide vital services and life-changing programs for our community—programs that promote education, independence, and job skills. Programs that not just support my step-son, Sam, but welcome him as he is, celebrate his unique abilities, and encourage him to live his very best life.

So tonight, please know that you have had a tremendous impact on your friends with Down syndrome. You've helped create a place where whole families like mine are celebrated and supported through all stages of life. And we could not be more grateful.

Thank you!

DOWN SYNDROME TODAY

In the United States, Down syndrome is the most common chromosomal difference according to the National Institutes of Health. Over 450,000 individuals with Down syndrome currently live in the United States; when you include affected parents and siblings, that's over 2 million people who are impacted by this diagnosis every single day. There's an urgent need to improve the lives of those with Down syndrome as well as those who are touched by it.

GiGi's PLAYHOUSE, INC.

GiGi's PLAYHOUSE NASHVILLE

GiGi's Playhouse is the ONLY network of Down Syndrome Achievement Centers nationwide and offers over 30 innovative programs that serve the unique needs of individuals with Down syndrome from birth through adulthood, all at zero cost to families. There are 59 existing GiGi's Playhouse locations in the U.S. and Mexico, and each playhouse operates independently and is locally concerned and enterprise minded. Across the network, the organization serves more than 30,000 individuals and delivers 220,000 in program participation hours.

GiGi's Playhouse Nashville joined the national network in November 2013. When we opened our doors, we wanted a physical place where people can connect, meet, and be accepted just as they are. We support individuals with Down syndrome and their families through 100% FREE educational, therapeutic-based, and career development programs that are tailored to their learning style. We encourage participants to give their "Best of All" every day, and we always celebrate individual progressions and achievements. We are tremendously proud of how far we've come over the past ten years—and we've got even bigger dreams for our future.

KEYNOTE

GIGI GIANNI

GiGi was born in 2002 and has been changing the world ever since! She is the inspiration behind GiGi's Playhouse Down Syndrome Achievement Centers. GiGi travels the country as the face of our network of Playhouses, sharing her message of love, hope, and acceptance to all she meets. Aside from being GiGi's Playhouse ambassador, she is an active high-school graduate who works, exercises daily, takes voice, has a boyfriend, and enjoys doing all the other things that young adults do! GiGi has made many television appearances and interviews on the Today Show, NBC Nightly News, ABC, CBS, NBC, FOX, CNN, Telemundo, NHK World Japan, and all over the world! She has also been featured in Forbes, Crain's Chicago Business, Fra Noi Italian magazine, and hundreds of national and international publications. Her biggest public appearances have been singing the National Anthem at a Cubs game in front of 40,000 people in 2019 and 2022, and at a White Sox game in 2021. She memorized the lyrics quickly but worked for years on articulating the words and building up the muscles to project her voice. GiGi now uses that voice as the co-host of "A Little Something Extra," the first podcast co-hosted by a person with Down syndrome, helping guests and listeners discover their superpowers and sharing the message of global acceptance for all! Her favorite pastime is spending time with friends and family.

NANCY GIANNI

Nancy Gianni is the Chief Belief Officer and founder of GiGi's Playhouse Down Syndrome Achievement Centers, as well as an author and public speaker. When Gianni gave birth to her beautiful daughter, GiGi, in 2002, she received a Down syndrome diagnosis that she wasn't prepared for. Following her daughter's diagnosis, her fears, coupled with the negative reactions of medical professionals, made Nancy believe that her life, as she knew it, was changed forever. Only a few months later Gianni's entrepreneurial spirit kicked in and she created the first GiGi's Playhouse in 2003, launching the only network of Down Syndrome Achievement Centers in the world. GiGi's Playhouse is now a $22M not-for-profit with over 60 brick-and-mortar locations and startups in the United States and Mexico, as well as virtually serving families in over 89 countries. GiGi's provides over 4,400 hours a week of FREE educational, therapeutic and career programming services to over 30,000 individuals and their families. With a demand to open 200 more locations worldwide using her replicable model, Gianni is tireless. As the dynamic force that is changing the disability world, Gianni's story has been featured on large scale media worldwide. Gianni, with over-the-top energy and drive, serves as both the visionary leader behind the organization's launch and dramatic growth; and perhaps in her most important role, being GiGi's mom. Gianni resides in South Barrington, Illinois, with her husband and GiGi.

Gloria & Cindy Knoch Award

The Gloria & Cindy Knoch Volunteer Spirit Award honors our founding benefactors Gloria Knoch, her daughter Cindy, and the entire Knoch family.

Gloria Knoch raised eight children—one of whom was Cindy, born in 1953 with Down syndrome. In 1953, there were very few, if any, resources for children with Down syndrome. Doctors recommended that Gloria institutionalize Cindy. Instead, Gloria and her husband brought Cindy home and into their loving family.

Despite the lack of resources for her child, Gloria was a pioneer and began a reading group for children with Down syndrome in her home. The family was not wealthy; despite that, Gloria managed to set aside money for Cindy’s future. Sadly, Cindy passed away before Gloria. Upon Gloria’s passing, her family wanted to do something that would honor their mother’s courage and commitment to supporting and educating her daughter.

The family chose to honor their mother’s legacy by giving to the newly opened GiGi’s Playhouse Nashville. They recognized that our organization strives to help individuals with Down syndrome achieve to their fullest potential, which is everything that Gloria wanted for Cindy.

The Gloria & Cindy Knoch Volunteer Spirit Award embodies Gloria’s giving spirit and her belief that her daughter Cindy could achieve great things if she was given access to the tools and encouragement she needed in order to be successful. We are pleased to award it to the volunteer of the year for GiGi’s Playhouse Nashville whose giving spirit has greatly impacted our participants.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT: AMY HIRT

Having strong, consistent volunteers is imperative to the success of GiGi's. We are so thankful for Amy Hirt and her long-time dedication to both our overall programs and specifically our Literacy and Math tutoring programs.

Amy enjoying a previous gala with participants Sam and Tori.

Amy is a Nashville native, having grown up in the Green Hills area and moving to Franklin after she got married to raise her three children. She studied Special Education in Undergrad and Graduate School at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville and taught briefly in Nashville Public Schools before her children were born. After her children were in school, Amy spent twelve years as a Developmental Therapist in Williamson County. This is where she learned of GiGi's Playhouse, as she worked with several families who were founding members of GiGi's Playhouse Nashville.

When Amy decided to step away from Developmental Therapy, she knew just where she wanted to give some of her time. Amy began leading group programs of all ages and learning about the tutoring program. As staffing changes were being made at GiGi's Nashville, she was asked to join the team as a part time employee to support programs and run the tutoring program.

For over five years, Amy worked with the GiGi's National Office to strengthen and grow the tutoring program in Nashville. But even after retiring from her staff position, Amy couldn't leave her GiGi's family. Amy continues to volunteer by tutoring weekly and serving on the Education Excellence Committee as GiGi's is always looking to find ways to support our participants and give them the tools to be their best and reach their goals.

Amy's dedication has truly changed the world for her tutoring students. GiGi's is blessed to have her as a valuable volunteer. We are so pleased to award her the "Gloria and Cindy Knoch Volunteer Spirit Award" and thank her for all that she continues to do for our families.
